About Us

- Mission/Command History

CAPT Seymour, CO

Welcome Aboard the Naval Medical Logistics Command "Public Website." If you are Military or Government (CAC enabled) you may click on the MIL/GOV Access tab on the menu bar. To learn more about the command and our mission, I invite you to extensively explore our newly designed website and to check back for updates. If you are a civilian contractor wishing to do business with Navy Medicine, click the "Doing Business With Us" panel just to the right of this message.

As always, we solicit your input and value your suggestions for improvement. Again, thank you for visiting and we hope you leave with a fuller understanding of the mission of the Naval Medical Logistics Command.

Welcome to NAVMEDLOGCOM

CAPT Mary Seymour, Commanding Officer

Who is NAVMEDLOGCOM? We are Medical Service Corps Officers, Supply Corps Officers, Sailors, Analysts, Contracting Specialists, Clinical Engineers, Biomedical Repairmen, Technicians, Support Staff and Contractors. We are 190 strong.

Select Operational Forces Support

You may already be familiar with the support that NAVMEDLOGCOM provides to Navy Medicine in the forms of technical and procurement support for the acquisition of equipment, supplies and services. What may not be as familiar is our support to Navy's fleet and operational forces. Engineering support for medical and dental space configuration for new ships' construction such as the LHA-6 America Class amphibious assault ship and the CVN-78 Ford Class of aircraft carrier; $10M per year in lifecycle replacement of shipboard medical
